OVERVIEW: Situated in an ideal midtown Manhattan locale, The Benjamin is a 209-room beaux-arts boutique hotel that exudes the ambiance of a private club. Newly redesigned accommodations by Rottet Studio range from guestrooms with kitchenettes to one-bedroom terrace suites with inspiring skyline views. Noted as “one of the 50 favorite restaurants” by The New York Times, The National by internationally acclaimed Iron Chef Geoffrey Zakarian is housed on the first floor and showcases modern bistro cuisine in a chic grand cafe or 24/7 in-room dining. Known for coiffing the tresses of celebs, stylist Federico Calce presents Federico Hair & Spa at The Benjamin. Guests have access to blowouts, color, cuts, manicures and massages in-salon or in-room. Thoughtful services are signature to The Benjamin and include Sleep amenities selected under the guidance of Rebecca Robbins, co-author of Sleep for Success!, Winks’ Kidzzz Club, goodDOG by The Benjamin, SIN Workouts, and 24/7 fitness center/sauna.

HISTORY: Originally established in 1927 as the former Hotel Beverly, the hotel is considered to be one of the most successful creations by famed architect Emery Roth. The edifice so inspired artist Georgia O’Keeffe that she painted it as the subject of her piece “New York–Night.” In November 1997, members of the Denihan family purchased the hotel and renamed it The Benjamin in honor of the family-owned company’s founder, Benjamin Denihan, Sr. The Benjamin, Denihan’s first luxury property, opened on April 16, 1999 following a $30 million renovation.

LOCATION: The Benjamin is located in the heart of Midtown Manhattan at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 50th Street with quick access to:

- Rockefeller Center
- Museum of Modern Art
- Fifth Avenue high-end retailers
- Radio City Music Hall
- St. Patrick’s Cathedral
- American Girl Place
- Central Park
- Midtown headquarters of many Fortune 500 companies

ACCOMMODATIONS:

Guests may choose from a range of newly renovated accommodations, redesigned by Lauren Rottet, namesake and founder of Rottet Studio, including:

- 48 superior guestrooms - 250-275 square feet
- 64 deluxe studio suites (18 offer two queen beds) - 300-350 square feet
- 79 one-bedroom suites - 450-550 square feet
- 10 one-bedroom terrace suites - 550-820 square feet
- 7 one-bedroom balcony suites - 550-820 square feet
- The Benjamin Suite with a spacious terrace and balcony - 1,620 square-foot

Under the discerning eye of Rottet, the revamped accommodations feature a palette of whites, silvers, mink and golds. Design choices—like a mirror-meets-mural art piece over the bed, mirrored coffee tables in suites and streamline parson's desks—skillfully accentuate the spaciousness of the rooms. Suites feature pullout sofa beds and square-armed lounge chairs, allowing guests to work and watch TV simultaneously. All accommodations feature kitchenettes, some with a spiral-patterned wall covering designed exclusively for The Benjamin by Rottet Studio.

IN-ROOM AMENITIES:

All deluxe accommodations include sitting areas and fully equipped kitchenette with granite countertops, glass-door cabinets, refrigerator, microwaves, automatic single-serve coffee makers, dishware and stemware, flatware, and complimentary coffee and tea.

REST AND RENEW AMENITIES:

At The Benjamin, sleep is not coincidence; it is core to our business. In tandem with the re-launch of The Benjamin's newly renovated guestrooms the popular sleep offerings are now under the direction of sleep expert and co-author of "Sleep for Success," Rebecca Robbins. Known to travel the world speaking on the latest sleep research, much of it conducted from Robbins' base of studies and findings outlined in the book she co-authored in 2011 titled Sleep for Success!, Robbins is the Official Sleep Consultant at The Benjamin, leading the hotel's Sleep Team to provide the most up-to-date solutions and tools anchored in sleep medicine. Robbins and the Sleep Team at The Benjamin will underscore that sleep is not a luxury, rather a necessity, and help guests to implement healthy sleep practices.

Rest & Renew Program offerings include:

- A reference copy of Sleep for Success! in every room
- Full or half-day sleep consultation sessions with Rebecca Robbins by appointment
- Pillow offerings arranged by sleeper type
- Sleep Team
- Sleep masks & ear plugs
- Custom-designed Benjamin Bed
- Blackout drapes
- Work-Down Call
- Power Nap
- Bedtime snacks
- Lavender Turn down
- Winks' Kidzzz Club
- Sleep-inducing spa treatments and room service options
- White noise machine

DESIGN:

The Benjamin continues to remain an architectural fixture in Midtown. The hotel concluded the majority of a multi-phase, multi-year renovation totaling $10 million in September 2013 by Rottet Studios – an international architecture and design firm with an extensive portfolio of corporate and hospitality projects for the world's leading companies and brands. Rottet, named a "Design Giant by Interior Design magazine, designed the rooms and suites with a residential-minded approach so that guests feel as if they are coming home to a more personal pied-à-terre rather than a hotel room

A prior phase of the project brought Chef Geoffrey Zakarian's all-occasion grand café, The National, to the hotel in 2010. Additionally, the second floor was reconfigured to create five residentially styled modular rooms for premiere events, and an intimate Benjamin Guest Lounge was conceived to include a seating area and two repurposed 7-foot steamer trunk work stations.

The hotel's lobby channels the intimacy and refinement of a luxurious private club room, where the designer has incorporated a seating area with a sofa, two wingback chairs with men's suiting details and a glass coffee table. One of the most delightful details is an oversized floral patterned area carpet, which will come into "full bloom" from an elevated vantage point from the second floor overlook.

RESTAURANT:

The Benjamin is dedicated to creating exquisite and thoughtful experiences. With this in mind, the property partnered with TV Food Network Iron Chef Geoffrey Zakarian to bring his all-occasion James Beard Award-winning restaurant, The National, to The Benjamin guest. The National offers modern bistro dishes with Zakarian's signature Modern American touch, a style of cooking that earned him critical acclaim at his previous establishments TOWN and Country. Designed by the Rockwell Group, the 125-seat restaurant is modeled after the traditional European grand cafés and tailored to Midtown Manhattan's unique culture and clientele. The National offers seasonal modern bistro dishes with Zakarian's signature Modern American touch, a style of cooking that earned him critical acclaim.

The restaurant is best known for its cocktail of the week program and signature Ugly Burger. Additionally, restaurant patrons and hotel guests alike can enjoy complimentary access to Sunday Sessions, featuring live music by New York's up-and-coming jazz and blues artists.

FEDERICO HAIR & SPA:

The masterful work of Federico Calce, known for coiffing the hair of the world's top models and celebrities, is available to guests in room and in the recently unveiled salon, Federico Hair & Spa at The Benjamin.

The 1,000 square-foot salon, which boasts a European edge, is located on the third floor of the hotel and features six chairs, two rooms for spa services (which are connectable for couple treatments), a pedicure chair, a manicure station, a waxing room and a makeup styling area. From blowouts to haircuts, highlights to hair painting, anti-curl to Brazilian keratin, Federico and his team of international stylists do it all.

Open seven days a week, from 7 am to 7 pm, guests are able receive around-the-clock coiffing with a simple call to the concierge, who has direct access to Federico and crew all times, day and night. After hours primping can be performed in-room. Known as "Federico Salon Direct," this 24-hour service was developed by the designer in response to numerous client requests for off-hour services.
